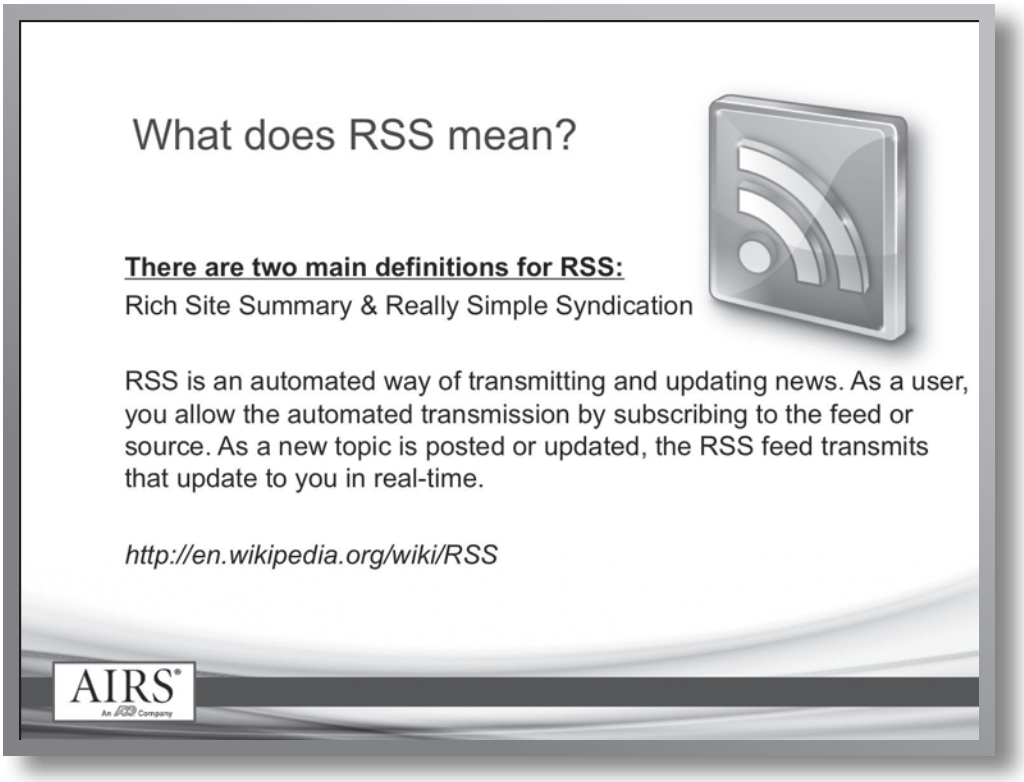
Goals for Easy RSS Feeds
Learn to advertise jobs using RSS feeds
Learn to source candidates using RSS feeds
AIRS



What does RSS mean?
There are two main definitions for RSS:
Rich Site Summary & Really Simple Syndication
RSS is an automated way of transmitting and updating news. As a user, you allow the automated transmission by subscribing to the feed or source. As a new topic is posted or updated, the RSS feed transmits that update to you in real-time.

NOTES

What is Web 2.0?
The second generation of the World Wide Web, especially the movement away from static webpages to dynamic and shareable content and social networking
http://en.wiktionary.org/wiki/Web_2.0
The Web 2.0 Templates have the Social Media integration written into the code of the template for us, so we don't have to create a feed.

A more dynamic mobile reading experience
1 day ago by A Googler
Last year we introduced mobile templates on Blogger, and Dynamic Views for the million blogs have started using Dynamic Views on desktop, and users have asked us for more mobile features. So today, we're bringing the speed and advanced reading experience of Dynamic Views to mobile. Configuring your blog to use a Dynamic View on mobile will result in a reading experience that mirrors the desktop, but is optimized for mobile.
To configure a Dynamic View for mobile on your blog, select the "Template" tab, and then click on the settings cog under the "Mobile" preview.

Custom domains simplified
1 hour ago by A Googler
Adding a custom domain to your blog is a great way to increase your brand identity. Setting one up, however, can sometimes be a frustrating experience, especially if you aren't quite sure of the difference between an A-NAME and C-NAME record or where to find them.
The good news is that the folks at Go Daddy created a handy tool that simplifies the process and makes it possible to redirect your blogspot domain to a custom Go Daddy domain with the click of a button.
